Everything You Ever
Wanted to Know About Reptiles, and Then Some!

Saturday, July 7 10:00 a.m. – Noon
AND Thursday, July 12
10:00 a.m. – Noon

The epic tale of the dinosaurs remains with us today. Identification, behavior, diversity and the value of reptiles will be discussed at great length.
Learn why certain cultures revere them instead of fear them!

Think You Know
Insects?

Wednesday, July 11
10:00 a.m. – Noon
AND
Wednesday, July 18
10:00 a.m. – Noon

Chewing, biting, stinging, lighting, and singing.
Missouri's insects rule the summer months. Learning how we really need them,
just as much as they need us, makes for an eye
opening experience!

Citizen Science

Banders from the Missouri River Bird Observatory (MRBO) gently net, identify, record vital statistics, and uniquely band captured birds before giving visitors the opportunity to release them! Come and go as you like during the three-hour program.
